Seekers Reach Out to Africa

During Summer Camp 2014, Suzanne Nyonzima brought her two girls to learn about volleyball. Following camp, Suzanne approached us with her story. Having survived a tough life in the Congo, she eventually made her way to Canada. Suzanne didn't forget about the orphans in her native area and raises funds and gathers life-improving goods to send back to these young people. As we've moved our camp totally indoors now, we offered a few of our outdoor courts along with a few bags of balls. Suzanne was thrilled with this donation.

We didn't hear much for a year or so and then we received pictures of these children in the Congo playing volleyball out in the fields. We couldn't be happier. Above is one of the photos, showing this young lady with a Seekers ball autographed by the 2014 Summer Camp coaches. Congratulations, Suzanne. What a wonderful life mission.

7 Spots still open . . .

We've been asked by a few parents regarding openings for Week Two. Some of the campers would like to add a second week of camp to their summer activity schedule. As of today, we can comfortably fit another 7 campers into Week Two. If you are interested, please let us know and we'll reserve a spot for you.

Thank You : 100 Volleyball Camps

Our coaches have been thrilled with the attitudes and hard work of all the campers during Week One, our celebration of a hundred camps. We've had a lot of fun and the skills are improving daily.

Thanks go to all of you, the parents, who have supported not only your daughters, but also our Summer Camp program. With your support, we'll be able to continue our camps well into our second hundred!

Leadership

One of the best things about Summer Camp is watching the girls develop in confidence as they accept new friends and realize that making mistakes is not a problem at all.

This has allowed many of the girls to buy into our program and to help others achieve their goals. We've seen a lot of gentle encouragement from many of the girls. Players from the same schools are now comfortable enough to reach out and join in with new campers.

Congratulations to all the campers. Great job so far!
